Today's Featured Wine

Smith Madrone, Spring Mountain District (Napa Valley, California) Riesling 2009. This is one of the few landmark Rieslings of California, grown high up on Spring Mountain in western Napa Valley. It is a trim, sleek Riesling with a slight sweetness that complements its high-acid depth and makes it particularly flexible with food. The wine has aromas and flavors that are floral, fruity (melon, apple, citrus) and mineral; these show lots of concentration and carry long on the finish.

A terrific Riesling, well-balanced and stylish. Only 12.9 percent alcohol. 90
